SUMMONS.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT OF SECOND Township, in the County of Alpine, State of California.

JAMES DAVIDSON, Plaintiff, versus SOL. SIMPSON and O. W. WARD, Defendants.

The People of the State of California send Greeting to Sol. Simpson and O. W. Ward, Defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Justice's Court of the Second Township, County of Alpine, State of California, and to answer before the Justice at his office in said Township, the complaint filed therein, within five days, (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this summons—if served within the Township in which this action is brought; or, if served out of said Township, but in said county, within ten days; otherwise within twenty days.

The said action is brought to recover the sum of One Hundred and Sixteen and 50-100 Dollars, being a balance due on two accepted orders given by one Sam Dixon, accepted for payment by you amounting to the full and just sum of One Hundred and Sixteen and 50-100 Dollars in U. S. gold coin, the said orders now being the property of this plaintiff. James Davidson, who claims to be the legal holder and owner thereof. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, as above required, said plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of One Hundred and Sixteen and 50-100 Dollars gold coin, together with costs of suit.

Make legal service and due return hereof.

Given under my hand this 10th day of August A. D. 1876.

Apropos of theatricals, the following extracts from a fair correspondent's letter will be found interesting: "Of course, dear, no one would be the 'messenger' (what amateur ever would?); so at last we had to impress one of the footmen into the service; but the stupid thing, instead of rushing on and shouting, 'My lord, Jeanie d' Arc has been executed, with fire and stake, in the market place in Rouen!' walked on just as if he were announcing luncheon, and drawled out, 'M'lud, Johnnie Dark 'as bin hexecuted frying steak in the market place in ruins."

A young man fresh from college undertook to address a political meeting, and, pointing to a fellow with no collar on, and a beard of three days' said, "Look at yon son of toil." The person apostrophized replied, with animation that he wasn't going to stand there and hear his mother's fair fame aspersed, "Take that back!" he shouted; and, before the astonished orator had time to take it back, he was assaulted with a beer mug.

A colossal group just executed by M. Ezekiel, of Rome, entitled "Religious Liberty," is the gift of the Jewish people of the United States (represented by the great society of the Sons of the Covenant) to the national Government, as a sign of gratitude for the religious freedom enjoyed under the shadow of the American flag. The sculptor, a native of Richmond, Va., will accompany the work to Washington, where it will be set up on some prominent site before the close of the Centennial year.

Peach peelings, heretofore a waste product of the canning factories, are now employed in a distillery in Baltimore in making brandy.

A simple method of case-hardening iron is to sprinkle powdered prussiate of potash over it at red heat and plunge it into water.

The man who played the organ at Notre Dame at the coronation of Napoleon I has just died. His name was Michael Engalbert and his age was 96.

Take things as they are and make the best of them. That is the only true and practical philosophy.

"I'm a man of very quiet tastes," said he as he went quietly behind the door and tasted something.

A DEMOCRATIC ANTI-TILDEN DEMOCRAT.

The Democratic party placed Samuel J. Tilden in nomination at St. Louis by the solid vote of the Southern States, who but a few short years ago had bayonets on their shoulders and swords in their hands intending to destroy the country. They selected Samuel J. Tilden by their unanimous vote. What does it mean? Out of all the array of candidates, Seymour, Thurman, Bayard, Samuel J. Tilden is selected by them, not by the North. They have examined his past record and they believe that he will be the fit instrument to carry out their wishes. It becomes the people of this country to inquire what those wishes and desires are. They have examined his record and believe his sentiment that every Union soldier upon Southern soil during the war was a trespasser upon the rights of the Southern States. They presented at the last Congress bills amounting to over one thousand millions of dollars, claims growing out of the war which they, not the North, inflicted upon the country. Are the people prepared to put in power a man who by his past record they know would cheerfully put his name to bills of that character?

The people are soon to be called upon to deposit their ballots, and in this Centennial year they are to decide whether they will allow their descendants one century hence to meet and celebrate a second Centennial, or whether this Government is to pass into the hands of perhaps a monarchy. The speaker said that he had participated as a delegate at the St. Louis Convention. He had opposed the nomination of Mr. Tilden and he now opposed his election and supported Hayes. He addressed himself to good Democrats, saying that if they desired to purify the party they should rebuke a convention that could make such a nomination. A proper and wise patriotic nomination—such was the desire throughout the land. The Democratic party had at least an even chance to elect a president; but God forbid that a man with a record like Tilden's should be elected by the Democratic party or any other!

The speaker said that his position was a peculiar one. He had participated in the convention, had opposed the nomination of Mr. Tilden and had risked abuse and personal insult. He had been obliged, after participating in the convention, to work against Mr. Tilden's election. In closing, he told his audience as they would see this Government given over to their descendants, as they hoped that a hundred years from this there might be a celebration of the second Centennial of their country, he begged them now to do their duty as free, noble, manly Americans.—Hon. Dewitt C. Littlejohn, at Brooklyn, Sept. 20.

THE GIFT OF FRANCE.—The statue by M. Bartholdi, which is to stand on Beldoe's Island and rear its colossal head 200 feet above the waters of the harbor will be the largest ever constructed, as well as one of the most artistic in conception and execution that the world has ever seen. There is no instance except this of one nation rearing a statue on the ground and for the honor of another; such a scheme was reserved for the gallant and generous French, who assisted us in our earliest struggle for liberty and have always been our warmest friends. When the proposition was made in 1871 to Paris to present the United States with a statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World" it was at once received with acclamation and promptly acted upon. The municipality of Paris headed the subscriptions with 10,000 francs, and the remainder of the estimated cost of 30,000 francs was raised at once by the subscriptions of at least 20,000 Frenchmen, in amounts of from two sous upward. M. Bartholdi volunteered his services as sculptor and entered upon his work without hope of reward beyond that which would accrue to him from the artistic excellence of the work he should accomplish. It was then found that, in order to be sufficiently conspicuous, the statue itself must be made of still more gigantic frame, and stand 115 feet high, on a pedestal 85 feet high. The subscriptions did not meet this previously uncontemplated exigency, and more money is now needed to complete the whole. We can do nothing less than raise the required amount at once; a committee for that purpose should be appointed and set about its work with the zeal shown in France. It would be an ineffaceable stain upon us if we fail to do this, to which we are bound by every sentiment of honor and friendship.—New York Graphic.

A little five-year-old, of the Dorchester district, somewhat surprised his mother a few days since with the remark: "God is everywhere; he is all over me, and when you spank me you spank God!"

ANECDOTES ABOUT SPELLERS.

If Dogberry, instead of asserting that "to write and read comes by nature," had said that spelling was a natural gift, he would not have blundered very far from the truth. For the art of spelling is to many a gift of nature. She denied it, however, to those of whom the Chicago Inter Ocean tells these anecdotes:

A local wit tells a story of a senator who once adorned the capital and bore with ease the highest honors of a great statesman. He was a poor speller, but realized as well as any the defect in his education and made vigorous efforts to correct it. He purchased a dictionary and used to study it faithfully. "But it's no use," he remarked one day to a friend; "I have spent half an hour trying to find out how to spell physician, but the word isn't there."

"Where did you look?" inquired a friend; and taking the dictionary from the puzzled Senator's hands, he found that he had been hunting among the "f's," as if it was spelled "fiz."

Quite as funny a thing occurred the other day. A prominent member of Congress, representing one of the largest States in the Union and one of the largest cities, who is the chairman of one of the most important committees in the House, and has had charge of some of the most important bills, wrote a note of recommendation for the appointment of a young man to an office. And the note began with the following clause spelled in this way:

"I corgially recommend Mr. ——," etc.

This is no freak of the imagination, but an actual fact.

The messenger of the House Judiciary Committee is a one armed Confederate soldier, and is a very polite, gentlemanly fellow. The other day Congressman Frank Hurd, of Toledo, went into the committee room and found the messenger poring over the dictionary in apparent great anxiety.

"What word are you looking for?" asked Mr. Hurd.

"I wanted to see how curiosity was spelled," said the messenger.

Hurd looked over his shoulder at the dictionary and seeing the man had it opened at the "k" place, said:

"Why, my dear man, you can't find curiosity there; curiosity doesn't begin with a "k."

The man looked up a little astonished, thought a minute and then remarked, as if apologizing for a fit of absentmindedness:

"That's so. What was I thinking of? I might have known it began with a 'q.'" And he turned over to where the "q's" were. Mr. Hurd let him hunt for it there.

One of the most remarkable illustrations of the mysterious line that separates the deadly and the wholesome in nature is given in the English Medical Press, which states that the poison of the cobra, the most deadly of the East India serpents, has been chemically analyzed, with the following results: Carbon, 46; nitrogen, 13; oxygen, 6; sulphur, 25; and hydrogen, 10. This is exactly the composition of beer-yeast. The latter is used in manufacturing the staff of life—bread; the former is so deadly in its nature that, even when taken from the snake and preserved, and afterward injected under the skin of animals, it is immediately fatal.

In swimming a horse, on reaching deep water, the rider should relieve the horse of his weight, by sliding into the water beside the horse, grasping the mane near the withers with one hand, thus requiring the horse simply to tow the rider, the latter assisting him in this, by using his legs and free arm in the same way as in swimming. In crossing rivers with rapid currents, the rider should take the down stream side of the horse.

In the London Divorce Court, lately, a woman prayed for dissolution of her marriage on the ground that she was insane at the time it took place. She was then so prostrated with grief at the loss of her husband as to lose her reason, and a man in a much humbler station of life than herself persuaded her to marry him. She had since been in an asylum, but was now sane. The evidence being perfectly satisfactory, the marriage was dissolved.

At the Centennial, the blunt Yankee "hands off," printed in bold letters and fastened in half a dozen places on every case, looks brusque beside the courteous "please do not handle" of the English exhibitors, and the still more polite "visitors will confer a favor," etc., etc., which is the way the request is worded by the French, Egyptians and others.

The fellow who couldn't get a julep on the Centennial grounds has made up his mind that Philadelphia is not the proper place for the mint.

NOT A CENT FOR THE WAR.—A record of persons who contributed to the expenses of the war in any considerable amounts was published in 1865, under the name of "The Tribute Book." It contains copies of every subscription paper known to have been gotten up in the Northern States. Mr. Tilden's name is not to be found in this book of 500 pages.

In March, 1865, a great Sanitary Fair was held in New York. It requires twenty pages of "The Tribute Book" to record the names of the contributors—several thousand. Stewart again gave $10,000, James Lennox, $5,000; Morris Ketchum, $5,000, etc. The aggregate subscriptions amounted to over $1,351,000. Not one dollar was given by Samuel J. Tilden, then reported to be worth over $5,000,000.

On April 17, 1861, a subscription paper was started in New York to aid in sending forward the Seventh Regiment. Forty gentlemen subscribed $100 each. Mr. Tilden subscribed nothing. He was then estimated to be worth over $2,000,000.

On the 22d of April, 1861, the "Union Defence Fund" was started. Mr. Astor gave $10,000; Mr. Stewart gave $10,000; J. G. Bennett gave $3,000; Mr. Belmont gave $1,000; and four hundred other wealthy gentlemen gave large sums. Mr. Tilden gave nothing.

About the same time the Bar of New York called a meeting and raised a separate "war Fund." Mr. Tilden, although he is now called an "eminent lawyer," and was then the wealthiest lawyer in New York city, did not attend the meeting nor subscribe anything for its purposes.

The stage of Wagner's theater, at Bayreuth, required 3,247 gas jets. The rising mists and gathering clouds needed for scenic effects were produced by two large engines placed at a short distance from the theater, whose steam was carried by pipes to a reservoir, from which it could be distributed by a network of tubes over the whole stage. In the corner towers of the theater are two cisterns, each holding about 1,200 gallons, from which water can be obtained at a very high pressure in case of need. The gas and water works of the theater have cost $30,000.

A wonderful microscopic watch has been presented to Mme. MacMahon by the Ecole de l'Horlogerie at Besancon. It is so small that to tell the hour a glass of high magnifying power is needed.—The Duc d'Aumale was present when this fairy jewel was handed to the marshal, and related how his ancestor, the Duc de Penthievre, wore watches in his vest buttons. The Duke subsequently ordered a set of Liliputian chronometers for shirt and wrist studs, which will be ready in time for the Exhibition of 1878.

The New York Belting and Packing Company have recently made a rubber belt, 331 feet long and 4 feet wide, weighing 2 tons, for use in the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company's elevator at foot of 60th street, North river, New York. The driving power to be carried by this belt is estimated at 500 horses. It is believed to be the largest belt ever made.

A Boston tea firm have adopted the habit of giving to every one who purchases anything at their establishment a cup of fine coffee with rich cream. Another Boston firm, probably favorably impressed with the liberality of the first-named firm, and desirous of emulating their example, pay their shop girls $3 per week, and then deduct five cents each per week for iced water.

The new tunnel being built under the Thames is intended for the use of about 8,000 workmen who have to cross at that point, and who are often detained by fog that stops the boats. It will be an iron tube nine feet in diameter, lighted with gas, thoroughly ventilated, and only for pedestrians.

The White Sulphur Springs correspondent who wrote the following seems to have been incited by personal feeling: "The flirt is the painted hyena of society, the lamb-fleece disguised ravening wolf of the affectional fold. Her fangs drip with the gore of the foolishly fond and true."

We presume that Tilden is not the only man in the country who swore to false income returns, but he is the only man of the class who is a candidate for President of the United States.—Ex.

The old apple tree at York, Me., that was brought in a tub from England, in 1629, was cut down by its owner, recently because the many visitors to it trampled the grass.

You ought to have lost both legs," was Sam Tilden's remark to a crippled soldier, and the soldier lived to make his affidavit on it.

ELECTION, NOVEMBER 7, 1876.

BRING OUT EVERY VOTE.—Every Republican vote must be got out this fall. No business transaction, no public or private engagement must be allowed to interfere with voting. This must be considered a sacred obligation to be kept at all hazards and under all circumstances. The loss of a single vote may give a State to Democracy. The loss of a State may lead to the surrender of the Government to those who have plotted its overthrow. Republicans must work as if on one vote depended the salvation of the Republic. The lukewarm must be aroused to activity, the doubters must be convinced by the presentation of facts, every friend of the country must be enlisted in the great work of defense. The signs of the times indicate a Republican victory, but our friends must remember that the result depends upon the work accomplished. If the work is thorough the triumph will be complete.

Tilden has granted 168 pardons in two years. And the convicts are heard to remark: 'Thou hast been faithful over a few things; we will make thee ruler over many things."

The six million dollar suit against Tweed and the seven million dollar suit against Sweeny have been called and adjourned until November 13th, no Judge being ready to try them.

There is more virtue in a single year of Republican rule than in all the sermons on reform preached by Democracy.

THE ELECTIONS.

The Republicans have achieved signal victories in the elections held in Indiana and Ohio on Tuesday last in the election of their entire State ticket in Ohio, and 13 Congressmen out of 20—a gain of six—the Ohio delegation in the present Congress being 13 Democrats and 7 Republicans. Indiana has certainly done nobly in electing 7 Republican Congressmen—and perhaps more, a gain of 2—that State having only 5 Republicans in the present Congress. It is claimed that the Republicans have elected Gen. Harrison Governor of Indiana by a small majority. Both parties nominated their most popular man for Governor, and it was only on Congressmen that national politics figured in the contest, and on those grounds the Republicans were successful. Indiana, in her State elections, has been Democratic since the close of the rebellion, but always goes Republican at the Presidential election, and the loyalists of that State will remain true to the party that has preserved our free institutions intact, and on the 7th of November roll up her usual majority for Hayes & Wheeler. In view of the influx of illegal voters the Republicans have cause for rejoicing over the result of the Indiana election.

THE CHANGE WROUGHT.—When the Republican party came into power the auction block and the slave pen were within the shadow of the nation's Capitol. What a change has God wrought under the sway of the Republican party! To-day the flag floats over freemen everywhere. Slavery has died before the breath of freedom, and another decade of Republican rule will wipe out forever the spirit of oppression which still lingers around the recent fields of bondage. The prayer of freemen throughout the world is, that the party that has done so much for American liberty and human progress will continue to govern the country until every vestige of evil growing out of the institution of slavery is removed.

Rutherford B. Hayes is a patriotic man, and when the war commenced Rutherford B. Hayes said, "I would rather go into the war and be killed in the course of it than live through it and have taken no part in it." Compare that with Mr. Tilden's refusal to sign the call for the Union meeting in New York. All the Democratic snakes, with their forked and poisonous tongues stuck out, have not found in the reputation of Gov. Hayes a crevice in which to deposit the poison of their malignity. Imagine a man so pure that the Democratic party cannot lie about him!—Ingersoll's Speech at the Cooper Institute.

When Samuel J. Tilden was a member of the New York Senate he introduced a bill in that body which deprived the Hebrew citizens of that State of certain rights and privileges. He then claimed that the Hebrews were not fit to be American citizens. For this the Jews in New York City are forming a powerful organization to oppose him. What a shame it is that our Hebrew fellow citizens cannot stand a little "reform." Perhaps they don't understand that Tilden only intended to reform them.—Hebrew Record.

E. W. Barber, Third Assistant Postmaster General, in a letter to the Postmaster General recommending the discontinuance of a considerable portion of the dead letter business, says that the reduced appropriations render the step necessary. The practice of returning to the writers ordinary letters received at that office will, in accordance with his suggestion, be abandoned October 18th.

By direction of Colonel Mark L. McDonald and Superintendent Myers, of the Santa Rosa water works, about 50 Chinamen, employed in excavating for a new reservoir, have been discharged and their places filled by white laborers.

LEGAL.

PROBATE NOTICE.

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF THE COUNTY of Alpine, State of California.

In the matter of the Estate of Joseph Fenley, deceased.

Order of Sale of Personal Property.

Application having been made to the Judge of this Court, by the petition in writing of Mary Fenly, Administratrix of J. Fenly, deceased, filed on the 15th day of September, A. D. 1876, for an order to sell all the personal property of said estate, and the Judge of this Court, having thereupon made an order directing all persons interested in said estate to appear before this Court, at the Court-room thereof, on this 2d day of October, A. D. 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M., to show cause why such order should not be made, and further directing a copy of said order to show cause to be published in the ALPINE CHRONICLE, a newspaper published in the County of Alpine, at least five days previous to this day.

Now, on this the said 2d day of October, A. D. 1876, at said hour, and at said Court-room, upon due proof to the satisfaction of the Judge of this Court, of the due publication of a copy of said order, to show cause, as directed as aforesaid, and it appearing to the Judge of this Court, that all the allegations in said petition are true; that the personal property is of the value of $832 12 only, and that it is necessary to sell the whole thereof for the best interest of the estate, and that all the proceedings in the matter of said application have been conducted strictly in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided, and no one interested in said estate, or otherwise, having made or filed any objections or exceptions to the order prayed for,

It is hereby ordered, adjudged, and decreed: That the said Mary Fenly, Administratrix sell, either at private sale or at public auction, and after public notice given, for at least ten days, by publication in the ALPINE CHRONICLE a newspaper published in Alpine county, in which notice shall be specified the time and place of sale.

And it is further ordered, that the sale of said property be made at the late residence of the deceased, or at some other public place to be mentioned in said notice; and that no sale shall be made of any of said property, which is not present at the time of selling; and that said Mary Fenly return to said Court, at its next term of said sale, an account of sales, verified by her affidavit.

Dated October 2d, 1876.

The following from the Coast Review, the only Insurance Journal on the Pacific Coast, is to the point:

"For faithful and economical management, the Mutual Benefit has a record equal to any Company in America. Its dividends paid to those premiums received, have been LARGER than those of any other Company for the past ten years, and the average ratio of expense of management to income, since its organization, only amounts to 8 and 76-100 per cent. It is PURELY MUTUAL, dividing up the surplus annually with the policy-holders. It is a sound and reliable organization, under judicious management, and entitled to the full confidence and liberal patronage of the public."

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

EXCHEQUER SAW-MILL.—This mill is working night and day, getting out lumber for the Exchequer and I X L mines and the I X L mill. The Huntington shingle mill is about ready to commence work. A planing, molding, tongue and grooving machine is en route from the Vulcan Iron Works, San Francisco, for this mill. In a few days the saws and other appliances will be connected with the engine.

DISTRICT COURT.—The following were the proceedings of this Court:

Adams Brothers vs. H. Rickey and D. N. McBeth—judgment for plaintiffs.

Wells, Fargo & Co. vs. H. Rickey and D. N. McBeth—judgment for plaintiffs.

B. E. Hunter vs. Schenectady Mining Company—judgment for plaintiff.

B. E. Hunter vs. Schenectady Mining Company—judgment for plaintiff.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last, Mrs. A. Laughton was thrown from her horse and suffered a dislocation of the right ankle and bruising of the left. In falling she hung in the stirrup for a moment and the horse kicked her. Dr. Luce, of Genoa, attended her and in a few weeks she will have recovered from her injuries.

EXCHEQUER MINE.—Good ore continues to be taken out and the mine never looked better. On Wednesday last, in the 400 foot level, 48 feet east of the engine shaft, the casing of the lode was struck.

I X L.—Good ore is being taken from the upper tunnel. In the 200 foot level they are running on casing of lode to the ore chute from which the rich ore was taken in 1865, and it is expected that 120 feet more will reach it.

EXCHEQUER QUARTZ MILL.—The O'Harra furnace is ready for work and is only waiting for the additional battery to be placed in position, which work is going on as fast as possible.

RAIN AND SNOW.—On Wednesday night a heavy storm commenced and continued, with short intervals, until Thursday night. Snow fell on the mountains and rain at lower altitudes.

PERSONAL.—Cyrus Coleman, of Markleeville, to-day departed on a visit to the old homestead in Pennsylvania, and the Centennial. He expects to be absent six months.

THE NUMBER.—Upwards of two hundred men are employed at the Exchequer and I X L mines, mills and wood camps.

DAMAGED.—The late storms have damaged a considerable amount of hay in Carson Valley.

The debt of the United States, as large as it is, is being steadily reduced in volume. The public statement gives a decrease in three months—July, August and September—of $7,172,769. The substitution of a large amount of 4½ per cent bonds in place of those bearing 6 per cent. will enable a greater reduction of the debt hereafter.

Gov. Kemper, of Virginia, in reply to an invitation to name Virginia Day at the Centennial, has written a letter declining to do so. His chief reasons are the poverty of the people to respond in an appropriate manner, and that it is not customary in Virginia to use official proclamations for such purposes.

It was Ben Hill who said, during the darkest days of the war: "Every citizen with his gun and every negro with his spade can do the work of a soldier. You can destroy the enemy by retarding his march. Do it." This is one of our law makers.

Captain John Greenville McNeil, a famous Texan pioneer, and one of the little squad of men who captured Santa Ana after the battle of San Jacinto, as he was creeping away on all fours through the tall grass, died recently at an advanced age.

TO SHAKE OR NOT TO SHAKE?

Aye, that is the question. Is it better to quiver from head to foot in the paroxysms of fever and ague, or to banish the atrocious disease by a course of that standard anti-febrile remedy, Hostetter's Bitters. There cannot be much doubt as to the response of the malaria-stricken to this inquiry. From every locality on this continent whose inhabitants are tormented with the shivering plague comes an increasing demand for the only genuine preventive and eradicant of malaria provided by science. The denizens of fever and ague districts well know how utterly inadequate to do more than give a brief respite are the so-called remedies of the faculty. Quinine, arsenic, bismuth—what are these but poisonous palliatives, which cease after a time to produce any beneficial effect whatever, and if persisted in wreak irreparable mischief upon the system? Everywhere they are being abandoned by intelligent persons, and that genuine vegetable specific for intermittent and remittent disease, Hostetter's Bitters, substituted in their places.

CENTENNIAL LETTER.

PHILADELPHIA, Octobeo 6, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:—Will you give space in the columns of your paper for a few jottings of a frequenter to the Centennial; who is so delighted with all here seen and so impressed with its merit and enormity, that she wants to urge everybody else to come, even to the uttermost parts of our land.

No such opportunity has ever been offered the American people for education combined with enjoyment; no more profitable school of object teaching; and it would seem a pity that any one who can manage to get here should miss it; the people have come to appreciate the educating influences of the Great Exhibition; the number in attendance is steadily increasing, and on Pennsylvanian Day it exceeded by 78,000 that of any other exhibition.

It is unrivalled in the respect of comfort and economy with which it may be seen, and by any and every class of persons; every profession and taste may find in the several departments, the best the world affords.

Here is the substantial looking Memorial Hall, within whose walls one loves to linger, and the more airy looking Horticultural Hall, the exterior of which is almost as attractive as the rare exhibits inside; these are both permanent buildings, and are to remain as lasting memorials of this first Centennial.

In Machinery Hall the principal feature is the great Corliss engine, which is the motive power. It is in the center and drives all the lines of shafting. It is said to be the largest stationary engine ever built in this country, with the capacity of 1,400 horse-power.—Rhode Island may well be proud of sending it; it runs so easily and quietly that it seems to be a marvel of mechanical skill.

In an annex to this Hall you find a Nevada quartz mill, in operation, which attracts a crowd of eager, curious visitors.

Agricultu a Hall is thronged daily, and I was disappointed to find the sparsity of California contributions, yet, when we consider the generous (?) appropriation of the State, we wonder no more. Oregon far eclipses her—here congregate the farmers, and one is well repaid by a thorough investigation. The Woman's Pavilion contains much of interest, and although by no means containing alone the contributions of women (for in every department her work is found) it is very creditable. Here are the elegant State buildings, so admirably arranged and open to all visitors. The California and Nevada Building, or Pacific Coast Hall (as visitors from the Coast are here welcome) is quite imposing in appearance. The registry is always in use, so many looking in the hope of finding some familiar name; and I, too, have scanned its pages, looking for some from Alpine, but it has been in vain. Can it be the denizens are so infatuated with Alpine's glories as to withstand all the attractions of the outside world? Where, too, are the mineral exhibits she could show? As yet I have not seen them. A part of the minerals are in the Government Building and others in the Mineral Annex, consequently they may have been overlooked.

As Main Building is truly the "Mecca of Civilization" whence the people flock, we will view it. It is a room 1876 feet long by 464 feet broad, and filled with cases or bazars for the display of goods. Some of these structures are circular in shape; others octagonal, a few like pagodas or temples, and a great many show the style of architecture from the country which their exhibits represent. To look down upon all this from the gallery, with the center broad aisle and the parallel aisles and cross passages filled with happy people, is indeed a living panorama; over each country hangs conspicuous its name and the flags of all nations.

At the east end of the building one finds the exhibits of his own country, and well may he be proud of it, in seeing how creditably the products and manufactures of this the "youngest nation," compare with those of older civilization. These must not be lightly passed over with the thought that we can at any time see home productions.

There are through it so many things suggestive of home comfort and delightful study that one could settle down at the Centennial and be quite at home. Among the number many upon which we cast not only a lingering but longing gaze; this, however, was not the $80,000 necklace of diamonds which Tiffany & Co., of New York, display—the stones are celebrated ones, I understand, one having belonged to the Empress Eugenie. The Century Vase exhibited by the Gorham Co., showing the civilization of our country from its first phase to the present time where America is welcoming all nations, is a wonderful piece of art. But a short distance from here we come upon a case, the contents of which would fill the heart of every bachelor in Alpine with the longing desire to possess one, at least—the most exquisitely carved meerschaum pipes and as I hear the county is soon to live over the palmy days so long foretold, my wish for their comfort and happiness will soon be realized.

In an hour's stroll every language now spoken in any part of the world may be heard; and for the study of foreign manners and faces call at the quaint little Moorish villa (a true model of a Moorish dwelling from Tangiers, the intelligent Moor in attendance informed me—he is certainly not the veritable Moor from Tangiers, of which Mark Twain speaks); the Turkish Pavilion, Syrian Bazaar, the French, Spanish, Hungarian, Japanese and others.

To get an idea of the extent of the grounds (of which there are 60 acres under roof) and 192 buildings, take a ride around in the narrow-guage cars, which will for five cents carry you round the grounds, a distance of three miles. The little locomotive looks hardly big enough for a full grown man; the cars are open on all sides with seats arranged facing each other, with entrance to each directly from the platform; they are about 30 feet long and 6 feet wide. Indeed there is so much to be said of it that one cannot do it justice. October 19th is the day appointed for Maryland, and a national tournament will take place. It is expected that will be one of the big days.

Let me again urge the many appreciative residents of Alpine to attend it, knowing they will be amply repaid, and they may not live to visit the next Centennial. ALPINER.

Our fair correspondent, formerly a resident of this county, says:

"From one who still retains a lively interest in Alpine, and hopes to bear soon of the brilliant future, for the patient souls who have lived against hope."

LIKE A STAUNCH SHIP.—The Republican party is like a staunch ship that has been tested by wind and wave and proven seaworthy in every respect. She has met the fiercest tempests and has brought her passengers and freight through in safety. The question now before the people is, shall this noble vessel be laid aside for the old worm-eaten hulk Democracy, that was condemned years ago as unworthy of confidence or patronage? The people who intrust their lives and property to a craft require something more than paint and putty to satisfy them that the vessel is sound. Tilden may paint and putty Democracy from stem to stern and hold out the inducement of cheap fare for the Presidential trip, but intelligent people will give the old hulk a wide berth. She has been tried and found wanting, and no assurance of reform in her management can save her from public condemnation.

DESERTING THE RANKS.—The New York Times of Oct. 7 says: "The Fifteenth Ward Tilden and Hendricks Club, at a meeting last night, came to the conclusion that the lame apologies of Tilden on the recent charges were not sufficient to extricate him. They hauled down their splendid banner at Bleecker and Sullivan streets and resolved to support Hayes. Three hundred members were present. The names of the officers and some of the members are published.

The people want to know what a man has been in the past before they will trust him in the future. Promises are good enough in their way but they are worthless when given by those who never kept one. Republicanism has kept its promise. Democracy has not. For this reason the country has confidence in the former and distrusts the latter.

In speaking of the rebel war claims General Bemis said, at the mass meeting in Steuben county, Ohio: "They want us to pay for the use of battle fields on which we licked them, and their impudence goes so far as to demand rent for battle grounds on which they licked us."

The season is at hand when the pensive house-fly hangs gloomily to the early morning walls and wishes to gracious that some one would get up and build a fire.

WOOD'S IMPROVED HAIR RESTORATIVE is unlike any other and has no equal. The Improved has new vegetable tonic properties; restores grey hair to a glossy, natural color; restores faded, dry, harsh and falling hair; restores, dresses, gives vigor to the hair; restores hair to prematurely bald heads; removes dandruff, humors, scaly eruptions; removes irritation, itching and scaly dryness. No article produces such wonderful effects. Try it, call for Wood's Improved Hair Restorative and don't be put off with any other article. Sold by all druggists in this place and dealers everywhere. Trade supplied at manufacturer's prices by C. A. COOK & Co., Chicago, Sole Agents for the United States and Canadas and by all Wholesale Druggists.

ELECTION LAW.

SEC. 41. Every person charged with the performance of any duty under the provisions of title II., part one of the political code, who wilfully neglects or refuses to perform it, or who in his official capacity knowingly and fraudulently acts in contravention of, or in violation of any of the provisions thereof, is punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or by both.

SEC. 42. Every person who wilfully causes, procures, or allows himself to be registered in the great register of any county, knowing himself not entitled to such registration, is punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison not exceeding one year, or by both. In all cases where, on the trial of a person charged with any offence under the provisions of this section, it appears in evidence that the accused stands registered in the great register of any county without being qualified for such registration, the court must order such registration to be cancelled.

SEC. 43. Every person who, after being required by the board of judges at any election, refuses to be sworn, or who, after being sworn, refuses to answer any pertinent question propounded by such board, touching his right or the right of any other person to vote, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 44. Every person summoned to appear and testify before any board of registration, who wilfully disobeys such summons, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 45. Every person not entitled to vote, who fraudulently votes, and every person who votes more than once at any one election, or knowingly hands in two or more tickets folded together, or changes any ballot after the same has been deposited in the ballot-box, or adds, or attempts to add, any ballot to those legally polled at any election, either by fraudulently introducing the same into the ballot-box before or after the ballots therein have been counted; or adds to or mixes with, or attempts to add to or mix with, the ballots lawfully polled, other ballots, while the same are being counted or canvassed, or at any other time, with intent to change the result of such election; or carries away or destroys, or attempts to carry away or destroy, any poll list, or ballots, or ballot-box, for the purpose of breaking up or invalidating such election, or wilfully detains, mutilates or destroys any election returns, or in any manner so interferes with the officers holding such election or conducting such canvass, or with the voters lawfully exercising their rights of voting at such election, as to prevent such election or canvass from being fairly held and lawfully conducted, is guilty of a felony.

SEC. 46. Every person not entitled to vote who fraudulently attempts to vote, or who, being entitled to vote, attempts to vote more than once at any election, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 47. Every person who procures, aids, assists, counsels or advises another to give or offer his vote at any election, knowing that the person is not qualified to vote, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 48. Every officer or clerk of election who aids in changing or destroying any poll list, or in placing any ballots in the ballot box, or taking any therefrom, or adds, or attempts to add, any ballots to those legally polled at such election, either by fraudulently introducing the same into the ballot box before or after the ballots therein have been counted, or adds to or mixes with, or attempts to add to or mix with, the ballots polled, any other ballots, while the same are being counted or canvassed, or at any other time, with intent to change the result of such election, or allows another to do so, when in his power to prevent it, or carries away or destroys, or knowingly allows another to carry away or destroy, any poll list, ballot-box, or ballots lawfully polled, he is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than two nor more than seven years.

SEC. 49. Every inspector, judge or clerk of an election, who, previous to putting the ballot of an elector in the ballot-box, attempts to find out any name on such ballot, or who opens, or suffers the folded ballot of any elector which has been handed in to be opened or examined previous to putting the same into the ballot-box, or who makes or places any mark or device on any folded ballot with the view to ascertain the name of any person for whom the elector has voted, or who, without the consent of the elector, discloses the name of any person which such inspector, judge or clerk has fraudulently or illegally to have been voted for by such elector, is punishable by fine, not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars.

SEC. 50. Every person who wilfully forges or counterfeits returns of an election purporting to have been held at a precinct, town or ward where no election was in fact held, or wilfully substitutes, forged or counterfeit returns of election in the place of the true returns, for a precinct, town or ward where an election was actually held, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than two or more than ten years.

SEC. 51. Every person who wilfully adds to or subtracts from the votes actually cast at an election, in any returns, or who alters such returns, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one nor more than five years.

NEW TO-DAY.

SEC. 52. Every person who aids or abets in the commission of any of the offenses mentioned in the four preceding sections, or who, being present at or cognizant of the commission of either such offences, and does not give information thereof as soon as practicable to the district attorney or grand jury of the proper county, or to some justice of the peace of such county, is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for the period of six months, or in the state prison not exceeding two years.

SEC. 53. Every person who, by force, threats, menaces, bribery or any corrupt means, either directly or indirectly, attempts to influence any elector in giving his vote, or to deter him from giving the same, or attempts by any means whatever to awe, restrain, hinder, or disturb any elector in the free exercise of the right of suffrage, or furnishes any elector wishing to vote, who cannot read, with a ticket, informing or giving such elector to understand that it contains a name written or printed thereon different from the name which is written or printed thereon, or defrauds any elector at any such election, by deceiving and causing such elector to vote for a different person for any office than he intended or desired to vote for; or if any inspector, judge or clerk of any election, while acting as such, induces, or attempts to induce, any elector, either by menace or reward, or promise thereof, to vote differently from what such elector intended or desired to vote, he is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 54. Every person, who with intent to promote the election either of himself or any other person, either—

1. Furnishes entertainment at his expense to any meeting of electors previous to or during an election.

2. Pays for, procures or engages to pay for any such entertainment.

3. Furnishes or engages to pay or deliver any money or property for the purpose of procuring the attendance of voters at the polls, except for the conveyance of voters who are sick or infirm.

4. Furnishes or engages to pay or deliver any money or property for any purpose intended to promote the election of any candidate, except for the expenses of holding and conducting public meetings for the discussion of public questions and of printing and circulating ballots, handbills and other papers previous to such election—

Is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 55. Every person, who, being a candidate at an election, offers or agrees to appoint or procure the appointment of any particular person to office, as an inducement or consideration to any person to vote for, or procure or aid in procuring the election of such candidate, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 56. Every person, not being a candidate, who communicates any offer, made in violation of the last section, to any person, with intent to induce him to vote for or to procure or aid in procuring the election of the candidate making the offer, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 57. Every person who gives or offers a bribe to any officer or member of any legislative caucus, political convention, committee, primary election, or political gathering of any kind, held for the purpose of nominating candidates for offices of honor, trust or profit, in this State, with intent to influence the person to whom such bribe is given or offered to be more favorable to one candidate than another, and every person, member of either of the bodies in this section mentioned, who receives or offers to receive any such bribe is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not less than one nor more than fourteen years.

SEC. 58. Every person who, by threats, intimidations or unlawful violence, wilfully hinders or prevents electors from assembling in public meeting for the consideration of public questions, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 59. Every person who wilfully disturbs or breaks up any public meeting of electors or others, lawfully being held for the purpose of hearing addresses on or considering public questions, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 60. Every person who makes, offers or accepts any bet or wager upon the result of any election, or upon the success or failure of any person or candidate, or upon the number of votes to be cast either in the aggregate or for any particular candidate, or upon the vote to be cast by any person, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 61. Every person who wilfully violates any of the provisions of the laws of this State relating to elections, is, unless a different punishment for such violation is prescribed by this Code, punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the State Prison not exceeding five years, or by both.

SEC. 62. Every person who prints any ticket not in conformity with section one thousand one hundred and ninety-one of the Political Code, or who circulates or gives to another any ticket, knowing at the time that such ticket does not conform to the provisions of section one thousand one hundred and ninety-one of the Political Code, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEWING MACHINES.

14,878 FLORENCE SEWING Machines were sold on the Pacific Coast from the Agency at San Francisco, previous to August 1, 1875.

If there is a Florence Machine within one thousand miles of San Francisco not working well and giving entire satisfaction, I will, if informed of it, fix it without expense to the owner, and will pay the freight both ways.

2,258 FLORENCE MACHINES were sold on the Pacific Coast in 1874—the largest number of Family Sewing Machines ever sold here in a single year, of any kind.

WEBER PIANOS ARE THE BEST

Never before in the history of piano forte manufacture has an instrument risen so rapidly in popular favor.

Its intrinsic merit and decided superiority over all others has caused every musician and artist of note to adopt and recommend it.

Nilsson says, "I shall take every opportunity to recommend and praise your instruments."

Miss Kellogg says, "Your Pianos are my choice for the concert room and my own house."

Lucca says, "Your uprights are extraordinary instruments, and deserve their great popularity."

Patti says, "I have used the Pianos of every celebrated maker, but give yours the preference over all."

Strauss says, "Your Pianos astonish me. I have never seen any Pianos which equal yours."

Wehli says, "Madame Parepa called your Pianos the finest in the United States. I fully endorse that opinion. They have no rival."
